

NEWSLINES

PHOTO/MARK THAMMAN

Monolithic Sculpture: Three more monolith structures are being erected on the Chico State University campus. The project is being led by visiting art professor Deborah Masters, pictured at the top on the structures, at right. Masters is using a vibrator to compress the concrete for the eight-foot-high sculptures, while assistants supply a steady flow of concrete and help support the sculptures. The sculptures are located near the campus rose garden.